New Azro Press Children's Book, The Fussy Little Butterfly, Now Available from Terra Nova Books

DEC 14, 2016: SANTA FE, NM—This delightful story of the author's experiences trying to "raise" a difficult butterfly is filled with joy and wonder as the two learn to communicate in the world they share. (ISBN 978-1-929115-32-7, $19.95, 32 pages, 4-color illustrations throughout, flexibound, May 2017). And page by page, the enchanting illustrations show us what that world must look like to a small caterpillar on its way to becoming a beautiful "painted lady."

Though carefully tended by its owner, the butterfly does not like the food that's offered. Through trial and error, the author discovers what the butterfly wants, and they learn to love each other. The book will appeal to young children as it helps them develop sensitivity to the small creatures of the world. It is published by Terra Nova Books (www.terrannotabooks.com), an independent publisher in Santa Fe, New Mexico, whose books are distributed to the trade by SCB Distributors of Gardena, California (800-729-6423).

Author and illustrator Jaenet Guggenheim has four other books to her credit: Herman and Poppy Go Singing in the Hills (text and illustrations), Grow Grow Grow (illustrations), JNG Cartoons, and Triassic Hall (written with Dr. Spenser G. Lucas). She received her degree in film from the University of Southern California. Her hometown was Santa Fe, New Mexico.
