New Version of Barbara Beasley Murphy's Classic Tale of Miguel Lost & Found: Journey to Santa Fe Now Available

DEC 15: SANTA FE, NM—A poignant story of a young Mexican immigrant and the challenges he faces is being re-released by Terra Nova Books. Miguel Lost and Found: Journey to Santa Fe by Barbara Beasley Murphy won the Zia Award for Children's Literature and is particularly relevant in presenting the issues immigrants face, including bullying in the classroom. (ISBN 978-1-938288-69-2, $14.95, 164 pages, paperback, November 2016)

Terra Nova Books (www.terrannotabooks.com) is an independent publisher that focuses on Southwestern titles, fiction, memoir, and books on healthy lifestyles. This book is one of the recent middle-reader titles released this fall to engage young readers with tales of adventure and issues of importance.

Author Barbara Beasley Murphy has been an author of books for young adults and younger children for more than 30 years. She has won the Zia Award, the Christopher Award, and a fellowship to the Bread Loaf Writers Conference. After graduating from the University of North Carolina, she taught junior high school English in Ohio and high school drama and speech in New York before publishing her first book, Home Free, in 1970. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, PEN, the Authors Guild, and the New Mexico Women's Forum, and was a founding member of the Children's Writers and Artists Collaborative. After a successful career in New York, she moved to Santa Fe over twenty years ago and continues to be active in the publishing world.
