New book, My Name Is Wonder, filled with Wisdom and Joy

JUNE 8, 2016: SANTA FE, NM—The unlikely combination of an adventurous goat named Wonder and a crow spirit guide named Mac Craack presents itself in a new book by Ronald Chapman, My Name Is Wonder: A Tale of Adventure (ISBN 978-1-938288-78-4, $19.95, 172 pages, paperback, September 2016). Led by their mixture of curiosity and wisdom, the two companions embark on a fascinating journey in search of the unknown and the sacred. Readers everywhere will be inspired by the uplifting and light-filled story of this modern-day parable.

Like the long tradition before it in the history of spirituality, My Name Is Wonder makes imaginative use of allegory throughout to further teaching and learning that can guide us all. Readers will find references clearly linked to Christianity, Buddhism, and the Tao as well as mystical perspectives that cross the boundaries of individual religions. Best of all, the novel is infused with a degree of magical realism that makes it perfectly suited to the desert Southwest.

The book is published by Terra Nova Books (www.TerraNovaBooks.com), an independent publisher in Santa Fe, New Mexico, whose books are distributed to the trade by SCB Distributors of Gardena, California (800-729-6423).

Ronald Chapman has a master's degree in social welfare and is a leadership and organizational development consultant and facilitator. As an internationally accredited motivational speaker, he presents workshops on forgiveness and spiritual healing. Among his other publications is the novel, A Killer's Grace, also published by Terra Nova Books. He lives in Atlanta, Georgia.
